

Activating a carbon-saving mindset in your people

A free, local and impartial eco-advice service for your staff

Buckinghamshire Community Energy is a local, independent, not-for-profit society providing impartial, expert guidance to local people on reducing energy use.

We're proud to announce we've received funding from UK Power Networks, the organisation operating the National Grid in our region, to provide in-depth advice and events across the county.

As part of this initiative, we are now inviting large, local employers to join us in encouraging staff to benefit from personalised energy-saving advice and guidance on grant-funded schemes so they can stay warm, save money and cut their carbon footprints.

We hope this will be an invaluable service for your organisation. Rest assured we are not selling anything other than community engagement.

Why get involved?

No business can afford to ignore the risk posed by climate change. Indeed, many are pivoting their strategies to take advantage of the huge energy transition opportunity we're seeing worldwide.

While carbon-reducing technology is readily available and already delivering proven solutions, we'll only achieve ambitious local and national carbon neutral targets if we can also inspire the collective hearts and minds of people and business to take action.

What we can offer

- ❖ Free money-saving one-to-one expert advice for members of your staff
- ❖ Lunchtime talks on your premises from local experts
- ❖ Competitions and internal communication campaigns to raise awareness
- ❖ ...and much more

What's in it for you?

- ❖ Free and impartial benefit for staff
- ❖ Out-of-the-box staff advice solutions, fine-tuned for your business
- ❖ Staff appreciating cost-saving advice they can use at home just as the cold weather begins
- ❖ Increased staff engagement in environmental and sustainability awareness
- ❖ Alignment with delivery of your own environment and CSR policies
